

Youth Elements

Who We Are

Youth Elements CIC is a youth-led Community Interest Company based in Longsight, Manchester, dedicated to supporting young people aged 11–24 to thrive, achieve their potential and make positive contributions to their communities.

We believe every young person deserves access to opportunities that build confidence, develop skills and improve wellbeing regardless of their background or circumstances. Through high-quality youth work we create safe, welcoming and inclusive spaces where young people are listened to, respected and encouraged to shape the activities and services they access.

What We Do

Our programmes are designed around the needs and aspirations of young people. Working alongside young people, local communities and partner organisations, we deliver opportunities that promote wellbeing, personal development, leadership, volunteering and positive community engagement.

- Open access youth provision
- Personal and social development programmes
- Youth leadership and volunteering opportunities
- Wellbeing activities
- Skills development and informal education
- Holiday activities and enrichment programmes
- Community engagement and social action projects
- Partnership projects that improve outcomes for young people

Our Values

Young People First: We place young people at the heart of every decision and encourage meaningful participation and youth voice.

Inclusion: We celebrate diversity and create safe, welcoming and accessible environments for everyone.

Empowerment: We help young people recognise their strengths, develop new skills and achieve their ambitions.

Integrity: We work with honesty, professionalism and accountability while maintaining the highest safeguarding standards.

Collaboration: We work with young people, families, communities and partners to achieve lasting positive outcomes.

Working for Youth Elements

Joining Youth Elements means becoming part of a passionate and growing organisation committed to creating positive opportunities for young people. We value creativity, professionalism, compassion and innovation, and we are looking for people who share our commitment to delivering outstanding youth work.

Together, we are helping young people thrive, lead and shape stronger communities.
